REPORT OF THE CHIEF ENGINEER

OF THE

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

To the Board of Selectmen of the Town of Rochester:

GENTLEMEN-The Engineers respectfully submit the following Report:

The different Engines are located the same as designated in our report for the year 1863; the Companies are all well organized with the machines in good running order, and always ready to do good service. if they should be called upon to extinguish a fire.

For the past year, the Fire Department has been called out only in two or three instances, and the fires extinguished with but slight damage; and we congratulate the citizens that they have been so fortunate as not to require the services of the Department.

We have put in two new Reservoirs in East Rochester, and one in Rochester village, in accordance with the vote of the town. One more is to be built in the village, and when this is finished it will complete all Reservoirs provided for the town; but we think that one or two additional Reservoirs in the village is called for, for the better protection of property in case of fire.

At their meeting in March last, the town appropriated a sum of money to Torrent Engine Company No. 2, for the purpose of building a new House, but the matter has been delayed on account of the difficulty in procuring a suitable lot on which to place the building; but measures have recently been taken to obtain a proper location, an efficient Committee appointed, and proposals issued for building a house for their Engine.

N. T. KIMBALL, Chief Engineer.

of the Superintending School Committee

ROCHESTER,

FOR THE YEAR ENDING FEB. 20, 1865.

In compliance with the requirements of the laws of our State, the Superintending School Committee of Rochester submit the following Report of our Schools:

District No. 1.—Prudential Committee, Amasa Allen. The Summer term of this school was taught by Lucy Roberts, an experienced teacher, and a good school. Instances of tardiness, 2; number not absent one half day, 3.

The Winter Term was commenced by Stephen W. S. Prescott, who taught four days and left for reasons unknown. Jeremiah S. Bean succeeded him, and closed up the term, giving, we think, good satisfaction.

District No. 2,—Prudential Committee, Simon L. Horn,— The Summer term of ten weeks and the Winter term of eleven were taught by Hellen S. Horn, who was attentive to her duties and kept up a good interest in the school. Instances of tardiness, 18; number not absent a half day, 4.

District No. 3. Summer term was taught by Lucy A. McDuffee, an experienced teacher, and who invariably gives good satisfaction. The scholars during this term made a marked success, and good satisfaction was given to the distric

The Winter term was taught by Hosea S. Merrifield, a competent and energetic teacher, one who loves his work and who succeeded in winning the good will of his scholars and inspiring them with a will to learn. This school proved a success both in the Summer and Winter terms.

District No. 4.—The Summer term of this school was taught by Lucie A McDuffee. This is a very small school but some of the scholars are well advanced, as much so in our opinion as any in town. They are to be commended for their good behavior and strict attention to studies. A good proficiency was made during the Summer term.

The Winter term was taught by Mary H. Hayes, whose scholarship compares favorably with other teachers, and who manifested zeal and untiling efforts to promote the progress of the school, and to a good degree succeeded in the effort.

District No. 5.—The Summer term was taught by Mary A. Meserve. The school is very small in number, not enough to inspire either teacher or scholars. The teacher, however, strove to inspire in the minds of her pupils an inclination to learn, and we think to some extent succeeded in the attempt. A fair success attended her efforts.

The Winter term was taught by Media S. Sanborn. A general satisfaction was given to the District, and a fair success was made,—as much perhaps as could be expected in so small a school.

District No. 6. The Summer school was taught by Arabella M. Clark, whose efforts to make the school commendable were successful, and a good proficiency was made by each scholar. We believe good satisfaction was given to the District.

The Winter term was taught by Lucie A. McDuffee. The government was strict yet gentle, and the improvement is highly commendable. Great thoroughness was attained by practice of regular reviews, which is in our opinion very important in all district schools.

District No. 7.—The Summer term of this district (Gonic), was taught by Miss Lauraette Ricker. This was her second summer term in this district. Miss R. possesses a wonderful faculty of winning the good will and affection of her scholars, consequently she has succeeded admirably in impressing good principles upon their young minds, and also of controlling her pupils. She was unable, however, to create all that interest, and maintain that good order which is necessary in order to render the school as profitable as it ought to have been,—owing to the large number that attend the school, which in our opinion is altogether too large for any one female teacher to control.

The Winter term was taught by Henry E. Chamberlain, a competent and faithful teacher, who spared no pains in making the school what it really ought to be: Good order was maintained throughout, and the examination at the close of the term gave evidence of thoroughness, good discipline and progress.

District No. 8.—Rochester Village, under the supervision of a separate committee, by reason of the adoption of the Somersworth act. Their report has been published in the Rochester Courier of March 3.

District No. 9—Prudential committee, Jeremiah Shorey. The Summer term was taught by Mary Whitney. It was a total failure; the teacher apparently lacking energy, and almost if not quite, loathing her business.

The Winter term was taught by Lydia A. Flagg, an experienced teacher, who succeeded in arousing the ambition of her pupils,—gaining their respect and good will, and improved them morally and intellectually.

District No. 10.—Prudential committee, James McDuffee. Both Summer and Winter terms of this school were taught by Marianna Sanborn, one of our best and most experienced teachers, who never fails to interest her scholars, improve their manners and add to their stock of useful knowledge. Instances of tardiness first term, 10; not absent one half day, 8; second term, tardiness, 17; not absent one half day, 2.

District No. 11.—The Summer term was taught by Mary H. Hayes, a faithful and earnest teacher, who was successful in maintaining good discipline, and creating a good interest in her scholars. A good advancement was made by the school, and ageneral satisfaction was given to the district.

The Winter term was taught by Thomas E. Caverly, a faithful and competent teacher, who succeeded far beyond our expectations. Good order was maintained, and good advancement was made. No teacher probably could have done better. Scholars, parents and the committee were well satisfied.

District No. 12.—Prudential committee, Thomas Evans. The Summer term of this school was taught by M. E. Jenkins, an experienced teacher and well qualified as to education, and, although the scholars made tolerable good improvement, yet the school did not quite meet our expectations, the teacher not appearing so deeply interested in her work as we would gladly have seen her. This is a well advanced and interesting school, and should have greatly interested the teacher. Instances of tardiness, 65; not absent one half day,

Three weeks of the Winter term was taught by Wm. H. Sanborn, who, through want of experience we think, failed to secure order, or the good will of his scholars. The remainder of the term was taught by Wilson K. Lindsey, an experienced and well qualified teacher, with whom the scholars seemed much pleased, and under whose tuition they made very good improvement. Instances of tardiness, 1; not absent one half day, 5.

District No. 13.—Prudential committee, Dudley B. Waldron. The Summer and Winter terms ware taught by Mary F. Waldron, a good scholar, and well qualified to teach, and in our opinion, if the scholars failed to learn it was not the fault of the teacher. Instances of tardiness, 8; not absent one half day, 2, District No. 14.—Prudential committee, Daniel Henderson. The Summer term was taught by Sarah E. Honsdon. The Winter term by A. J. Hodgdon, an excellent teacher who gave good satisfaction, and kept a good school. Instances of tardiness, first term, 18 second term, 34; not absent one half day, first term, 2; second term, 10.

District No. 15.—Ptudential committee, John O. Sleeper. The Summer term of this school was taught by Abbie E. Jacobs, who, though young and inexperienced, kept an excellent school. Instances of tardiness, 9; number not absent one half day, 8. The Winter term was taught by Susan Tebbetts, and was a profitable school. Instances of tardiness, 3.

District No. 16.—Prodential committee, Simon Wentworth. This District is united with a district in Milton, and as we were not notified of its commencement or end, we did not visit it and cannot report in relation to it.

District No. 17.---Prudential committee, Seth F. Mc-Duffee. Both the Summer and Winter terms of this school were taught by Susan R. Canney, who kept an excellent school in a very poor school house. Instances of tardiness, 9; not absent one half day, 13.

District No. 18.---P udential committee, James Tebbetts. No Summer term. Winter term taught by Marianna Sanborn, an excellent teacher. A new school house is very much needed in this District.

District No. 19.---Charles F. Parker, Prudential committee. The Summer term was taught by Harriet N. Chaniberlain. A large school with a great variety of studies. The teacher did well. Instances of tardiness, 40; not absent one half day, 2.

The Winter term was taught by Jeremiah S. Bean, who did all the District could expect a man to do in so large a school. This school should be graded, and at least one half of the scholars put under a good female teacher in a separate room. Instances of tardiness, 20; not absent one half day, 14.

District No. 20.4-Superintending Committee, George A. Drew. The Summer term taught by Susan Tebbetts was an interesting and good school. Instances of tardiness, 16; not absent one half day, 9.

The Winter term was taught by Lizzie B. Ricker, who was too young and inexperienced,; consequently, although she lab red hard and did as well as could be expected of one so young, yet she accomplished but little. Scholars not absent one half day, 4.

In closing our annual Report, we would suggest, that although our public Schools are as good, perhaps, as the average in this State, and as good, we think, as we have reason to expect under our present school laws, yet they are by no means what they should be in order that we realize in full the almost unbounded blessings which the Common School system is calculated to afford. It really appears to us that our common schools are greatly under valued by our people; not designedly, perhaps, but for want of due consideration. May we not therefore profitably dwell for a few moments upon what they have done and are doing for us, in their present very imperfect state, and then assisted by the light of the past, imagine if we can, what they would do for us, if carried to that state of perfection of which they are capable. Perhaps there is no way by which we can, in so few words, so powerfully impress and so clearly and effectually enlighten the public mind upon this subject, concerning which there seems to be so little thought and therefore so much ignorance, as by referring to the present condition and conduct of the people of the northern States, where the whole population enjoy the benefits of the Common School, and contrasting them with the condition and conduct of the people of the southern States, where the Common School is almost unknown, and the common people, for want of education, are degraded to a level with the slaves.

While they of the South through the ignorance of the masses have been, and still are being led astray by a few designing and wicked men, and are struggling to throw off and abandon the best government on earth, and substitute the most degrading despotism, based upon enslaving the laboring classes, we at the North are clinging to that government and pouring out our blood and our treasure like water to sustain and perpetuate it; and although we have suffered much and propose to suffer more if need be, yet we have by no means suffered as they And while for the lack of general intelligence the South has forsaken our excellent form of government, and suffered incalculable evils, the educated North has been enabled to appreciate it, and not only to enjoy its blessings themselves, but to constrain even its direct enemies to submit to its benign influence, and with us to enjoy its numberless blessings. Thus, obeying the sacred injunction, "Bless them that curse you, and do good to them that despitefully use and persecute you," holding them back from self destruction and ruin. And having purified our government, if not from every stain, yet from its foulest, and shown the omnipotence and indestructibility of a republican government, administered by an enlightened people, we hold it up to the admiration and imitation of the good of all lands, and to the terror and dismay of wicked men and tyrants, either in our own or foreign lands. And now having adverted to some of the beneficial results of that general intelligence, the foundation of which is our Common School system, we will endeavor to point out some of its defects, as we think, and suggest some improvements. And first we think the law, making it the duty of the Prudential Committee of each District to select a teacher, altogether wrong, and that one man elected by the people for a term of not less than three years should perform all the duties of our present Superintending School Committee, and in addition thereto the duty of selecting teachers for every district in town, fixing the wages of the teachers, drawing the money for each district from the town treasury and paying them; and thus allowing the same man who has the oversight of the schools, to select their teachers, we should feel, and he would feel also, that if we had poor schools in consequence of having poor teachers, the fault would be wholly his; and a remedy could at once be applied by removing him and putting a better man in his place. But now in nine cases out of ten, our Prudential Committee take no interest in the chools, feel that the office is a burden imposed upon them without compensation, never visit the schools, know nothing of the advancement or standing of them, feel no responsibility and care for no accountability, and provided they have no particular friend or relative to gratify, employ the first person who nappens along seeking employment as a teacher, provided be will teach very cheap. Now let the business of our manufactories and stores, our farms and workshops be managed in the same way, and who does not see that it would be ruinous to all business. And who wonders that our schools are comparatively worthless, or that our Superintending School Committee find it impossible to make the schools what they should be, with such a poor selection of teachers, so wretchedly adapted to the places they occupy? We might say much more upon this subject, but we forbear, and commend it to the consideration of our Legislators.

Although there are many other things to which we would gladly refer, such as the miserable condition of several of our school houses, the great injury done our schools by the irregularity of attendance, and the great benefit our schools would derive from frequent visits by the parents; yet the space we propose to occupy in remarks will not allow us to enter minutely into these matters, and moreover they were quite largely discussed in the report of your last year's Committee, and probably have been for several years past; and with a short quotation from one of our most distinguished statesmen, which we think very appropriate as well as very true, we close our remarks. "Never," says he, " was a reformation more imperatively demanded by every interest and every duty, than in our Common Schools Our Common Schools are as yet only the rudiments of an institution destined to mold anew the character, to create anew the fortunes of the nation. He who measures their influence, starts back in astonishment at the magnitude of the results already realized; and he who considers what their influence ought to be, is no less astonished at the waste of our means and the neglect of our resources. I hesitate not to declare it as my earnest conviction, that throughout New England, we reap not one tenth part, of the benefits which our schools are capable of yielding us. I know and I pledge my reputation upon it, that a boy twelve years old. of average capacity can be taught more of useful knowledge, better business habits, and better moral and intellectual habits, in two years, than our children ordinarily acquire between the ages of four and sixteen. What a fearful treasure of talent wasted, of time misspent? Now if these are true statements, and who doubts it ! is it not time we take one step at least, towards reform? With an earnest entreaty to the inhabitants of our several School Districts to "ponder well the paths of their feet" in relation to our Public Schools, we close our Report.
